Society of Allied
Weight Engineers

Your Invitation to the 5th Central European Regional Conference on Mass Properties Engineering. Welcome to Hamburg!

The Society of Allied Weight Engineers is an international organisation whose purpose is to promote the recognition of Weight Engineering as a specialised branch of engineering.

The 5th Central European Regional Conference provides an opportunity for mass properties engineers to meet, to share and discuss mutual problems, procedures and specifications, thus broadening their individual horizons and becoming better informed.

The conference will comprise a technical program of papers and presentations on a range of mass properties topics including;

- Applications of an Aircraft Loading model based on Lagrange Multipliers Formulation.
- Inertia Uncertainty of a Semi-Submersible MODU or FPU.
- Vibrations in Continuous Media with Varying Mass.
- Continuous learning of the Mass Properties Discipline.
- Mass Properties of air vehicles with hybrid lift concepts; Prediction and impact on the design solution.
- The optimisation of Mass throughout the Aircraft Development process.
- Aircraft mass estimation; an industrial multidisciplinary approach.

Let's Visit Airbus! – finalize this conference with a sightseeing tour at Airbus incl. A320 and A380!
